1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 Background

In terms of the Local Government Municipal Systems Act No 32 of 2000, Section 25 (1) each municipal council must, within a prescribed period after the start of its elected term, adopt a single, inclusive and strategic plan for the development of the municipality which, inter alia, links, integrates and co-ordinates plans and takes into account proposals for the development of the municipality and aligns the resources and capacity of the municipality. As far as the status of the IDP is concerned, Chapter 5 Section 35 of the Municipal Systems Act (MSA) clearly states that an integrated development plan adopted by the council of a municipality is the principal strategic planning instrument, which guides and informs all planning and development, and all decisions with regard to planning, management and development, in the municipality. The act binds the municipality in the exercise of its executive authority, except to the extent of any inconsistency between a municipality's integrated development plan and national or provincial legislation, in which case such legislation prevails. Chapter 5 Section 36 of Municipal Systems Act (MSA) stipulates that the municipality must give effect to its integrated development plan and conduct its affair in a manner which is consistent with its integrated development plan.

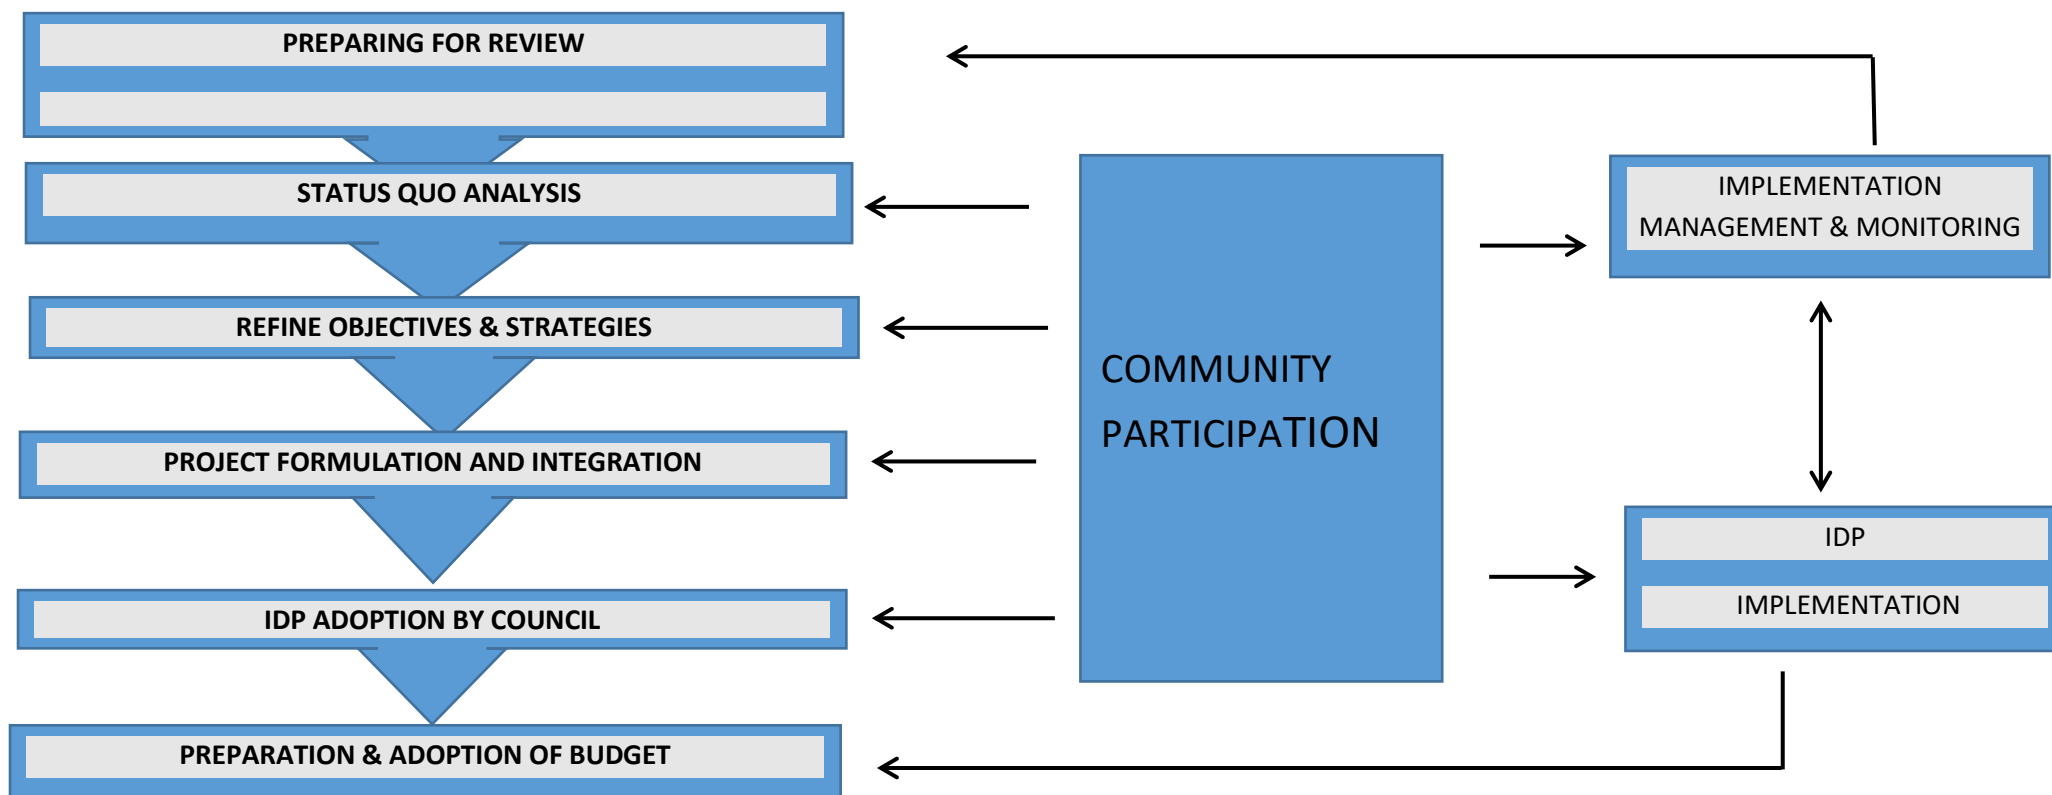

It is indeed of paramount importance to focus on the involvement of the masses at a local governmental level. It is now a developed culture of the Dihlabeng municipality , communities and all other key stakeholders to be consulted and engaged in a meaningful way with a view to empower, educate and develop these communities.

6. MECHANISMS AND PROCEDURES FOR PUBLIC PARTICIPATION:

6.1 Ward Committees and CDWs

- The Municipal Systems Act No. 32 of 2000 forms the pedestal for community and stakeholder participation at local government. One of the main features about the Integrated Development Planning process is the involvement of community and stakeholder organisation in the process. Participation of affected and interested parties ensures that the IDP addresses the real issues that are experienced by the residents of a municipality .Chapter 4, section 16 (MSA No 32, 2000) explicitly outline the notion of community participation.
- Ward committees are key in this process as espoused both in the legislation and they represent the development aspirations and needs of the communities they represent and form an information assimilation /dissemination mechanism between a municipal council and the community.
- As part of consultation process of the IDP & Budget Review, the municipality will embark on extensive community participation and stakeholder’s process in all its twenty (20) wards. The participation process must be conducted on ward basis and in the form of public and stakeholders debate on what priority issues are and what appropriate ways and means are of dealing with these priority issues.
- To further strengthen community engagements the Dihlabeng Municipality will establish 20 Ward Committees and appoint 20 CDWs.

6.2 Stakeholder Organizations

- Stakeholder organizations which represent certain social, economic, gender or environmental interests have to be registered as “Stakeholder” (at municipal level) through which they can participate in the planning process.
- Unorganised groups should be presented by “advocates” (e.g. social workers, NGOs, CBOs and resource persons who have done studies on such groups, etc.).

6.3 IDP Representative Forum

- The IDP Representative Forum is a structure that institutionalizes and ensures a representative participation in the IDP process. The representative forum represents the interest of its constituents in the IDP & Budget processes, and is thus required to give feedback to its constituents. The Representative Forum of Dihlabeng must be a fairly representative structure and consists of representatives of the following structures:
 - Community Based Organizations, Non-Governmental Organizations.
 - Business Community, Government Sector Departments, Self Help Organizations.
 - Ward Councillors, Ward Committees and Community Development Workers.
 - Private Sector groupings
- The IDP Representative Forum has to be involved at least once in each major stage of the drafting process.

6.4 Community Outreach Meetings

Ward Councillors, CDWs and Ward Committee Members will play a crucial role in convening community meetings and communicating with the community about various municipal governance issues. In general, the Public Participation Process in all twenty wards within the municipality depends largely on the involvement of the community and other stakeholders. The schedule for community engagement meetings on the IDP Review is depicted in table below.
